

Chapter 6. The Interactional Approach to Community

QUIZ

Select the best answer for each of the following questions.

1. The interactional approach focuses on how the behavior of residents is influenced by the environment where community they live.

True or False

2. The authors of this chapter believe that the interactional approach is equally relevant in rural and urban settings.

True or False

3. For many people in American society, their “world of work” and “world of residence” is separated.

True or False

4. Most people share a common territory where they interact with each other on relevant matters even as they participated in extended social networks and relationships.

True or False

5. From the interactional perspective, community development is basically NAAAPS- Networks of Actors engaged through Associations in Activities in a place.

True or False

6. List several types of interactional fields that are likely to be present in most large communities.

Robinson and Green
Introduction to Community Development
Online Learning Modules

7. Actions contribute to the development of community only when they represent purpose efforts to create and strengthen the community field.

True or False

8. According to the authors of chapter 6, what is the main goal of development?